

MOKE-FILLED L SLAYER OF 6

Mexican Outlaw, Has 1000 Feet Up on Cliff in His Hands.

for nearly 1000 feet before it struck the bottom. Here and there a miner's cabin clings to the cliff and from one of these a widow sat watching today for the avenging of her husband. The exits of the mine are at different levels and although there is no record, it is estimated the tunnels, inclines and blind slopes crisscross for a total distance of 30 miles. Lopez took refuge in the mine Friday night with a limited supply of food. He was formerly one of the leaders of the mine, which produces gold, silver and copper. Lopez is familiar with every passage way. Will Let Companion Surrender. Mike Crankovich, who shot and seriously wounded his wife several days ago, may also have hidden in the mine, it was thought. The deputies were instructed to allow him to surrender peacefully if he came out alone. Nov. 21, Lopez killed a Mexican miner and later in the day he killed the Chief of Police and two deputies who pursued him. After a chase through several counties he backtracked to Bingham and took refuge in the Utah-Apex mine, where he killed two more deputies last Saturday.

PREACHER TOUCHES ON FRISCO SCANDAL IN SUNDAY SERMON

E. J. Kulp Compares Railroad Looters to Character in Churchill Novel.

In his discourse on Winston Churchill's new novel, "The Inside of the Cup," the Rev. E. J. Kulp, pastor of the Maple Avenue Methodist Church, Sunday night referred to the Frisco scandal. "The Inside of the Cup," which is a novel, is a story of a man who, in the name of religion, organized the Consolidated Traffic Co. and misused it on the public at great profits to himself. Commenting upon the character of the man as depicted by the novelist Churchill, Dr. Kulp said: "The man who did that, whether he was a Frisco Railroad director or some other else, was a thief. From a moral standpoint he is not different from the thief who put his hand in your pocket and robs you of your money. As between the two kinds of thieves, I have more respect for the latter, because he takes a chance of being caught and punished while the other protects himself behind the law. The place for a man of that character is the penitentiary."

Dr. Kulp has been preaching a series of sermons based on the new novel. He said Monday that while some people were of the opinion that Eldon Parr in real life was a St. Louis promoter of traction deals of various kinds, he was inclined to think that the novelist had in mind the type of modern financier, rather than any particular individual.

WALK BETW CHINESE ENTERING THE COUNTRY

Pose as Japanese School Boys, but Strike High Instead of Toss First as They Step. HONOLULU, Dec. 1.—Because two Oriental students took the high heel first instead of the toe, in walking, they were detained today by immigration officials who believe they have discovered a plot to smuggle opium into the country. The two men, posing as Japanese school boys, came from Honolulu.

WOMAN CAN'T KILL JEALOUS MONKEY, OFFERS IT TO ZOO

Animal Withstands Four Hours of Gas, Chloroform and Strychnine.

POLICEMEN CALLED IN They Object to Shooting Him in Mrs. Lee Read's Hotel—He Is Jealous of Parrot.

A woman, audibly excited, telephoned to the Soudard Police Station Sunday afternoon and asked that policemen be sent to 2208 Lafayette avenue to kill a monkey. Patrolmen Heckel and Ries were sent there in haste. They found the address given in the message was that of the Lafayette Park Hotel. Mrs. Lee Read, proprietress of the hotel, awaited them at the front door. "I've got him locked in a room," she said. "I've had him about four years. He used to be a good monkey, but now he's so jealous of my pet parrot that I can't do a thing with him. Every time I pay any attention to the parrot he flies into a rage. He has bitten me twice."

Mrs. Read said that a few days ago she chained the monkey, but that he got loose and she had chased him into a room and locked the door. She said she wanted the policemen to shoot the monkey. Police Object to Shooting. Patrolman Heckel objected to this plan. He said shooting monkeys on the wing was no part of the police target manual and that he feared that an effort to pink Jocko would result only in shooting up the hotel and possibly wounding some innocent by-stander. He suggested that he and his partner go into the room and sub the monkey to death, but Mrs. Read didn't like the idea. The policemen went out and called Capt. McNamee on the telephone. They asked him whether they should use revolvers or clubs. He told them to use their judgment. Policemen's Judgment has done many queer things, but Heckel and Ries never heard of its killing a monkey. Figuratively, they were up a tree.

They went back to the hotel and Mrs. Read what the Captain had said. "Well, you needn't trouble yourselves any further," said Mrs. Read. "I just slipped into the room and turned on the gas. I suppose that will kill him."

The policeman went away. At 5 p. m. after the gas had been turned on for four hours, Mrs. Read cautiously opened the door. Despite the noxious vapor the monkey was still alive and chirping. Before calling the police, Mrs. Read had attempted to kill the monkey with chloroform, but it had no effect on him. He sat in his little bed and chewed his rag on which the chloroform had been placed. When Mrs. Read's husband returned home Sunday night he bought 5 cents worth of strychnine and mixed it with food for the monkey, who ate it with great relish, but without ill effect. Monday Mrs. Read called up Park Commissioner Davis' office and offered the monkey to the zoo. His name is Murphy.

PANSIES IN MINNESOTA

Fine Weather Brings Flowers to Bloom Again; Trees Budding. WABASHA, Minn., Dec. 1.—This city claims a fine weather championship. Yesterday Frank Struetzel picked a large bouquet of pansies from a flower bed in his yard. The plants are blooming for the second time this year. Dairymen are feeding their cattle on green peas and trees are reported budding in Folk County.

LAWYER HAS WIFE WHO SPURNED HIM SENT TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. August Ossenfort of Kirkwood Refuses to Speak to Husband Who Calls Policeman.

SHE LIVED WITH ANOTHER Registered at Hotel in St. Louis With C. O. Grays on Oct. 27; Held for Observation.

Mrs. Leonora Ossenfort, 30 years old, until recently proprietor of the Oakwood Hotel at Kirkwood, is in the city hospital observation ward, where she was placed Sunday night at the request of her husband, August Ossenfort, a Kirkwood lawyer.

Ossenfort told the police that his wife left home five weeks ago and has since been living at the Hamilton Hotel with C. O. Grays, a real estate promoter, who had been a guest at the Oakwood Hotel about a year. At 11 p. m. Ossenfort met his wife at Eighth and Locust streets and pleaded with her to return home. She refused and he called a policeman. At police headquarters, after admitting that she and Grays had been stopping at the Hamilton, Mrs. Ossenfort became hysterical and her husband asked that she be placed under observation. Registered at Hotel Oct. 27. In Kirkwood, it was learned, it was a matter of common knowledge that Grays left the Oakwood Hotel and departed from the town about the time that Mrs. Ossenfort came to St. Louis. It was learned at the Hamilton Hotel that Grays and Mrs. Ossenfort went there to live Oct. 27, registering as C. O. Grays and wife. Grays told W. S. Bowles, manager of the hotel, that he was in the real estate investment business in St. Charles. He said his wife didn't like the quiet life of a small town and had urged him to bring her to St. Louis. Grays went away from the Hamilton most of the time, but he would go there on Saturdays and remain over Sunday with Mrs. Ossenfort. Bowles told that she fainted several times while a guest there.

AMERICAN WIFE DIVORCES OFFICER IN BRITISH ARMY

Daughter of Ex-Postmaster-General Wynne Gets Decree for Cruelties and Improprieties.

By Associated Press. LONDON, Dec. 1.—A divorce was granted today by Mrs. Ida M. French, daughter of Robert J. Wynne of Washington, former American Consul-General in London and ex-Postmaster-General on the grounds of cruelty and impropriety on the part of her husband, Capt. Ronald French, now of the Fourth Battalion (territorial) of the Yorkshire Regiment and formerly of the Seventh Dragoon Guards.

POLICE CAPTURE A GOAT THAT ATE DOORMATS

East St. Louis Patrolman Makes Lasso of Child's Swing to Subdue Animal.

The East St. Louis police got J. H. Wilson's goat Sunday afternoon. After many complaints that a long-horned beast was devouring doormats and other scraps in the 1700 block on Thirty-eighth street, Patrolman McCoy and C. C. Devereaux, the department chauffeur, set forth in an automobile to reconnoiter. They found the goat but he resisted arrest and put them to flight. While executing a flank swing McCoy found a child's swing suspended from a tree. He cut it down and using the rope as a lasso, captured the goat. Wilson, who lives at 511 Audubon street, later claimed the goat and promised to keep it at home. It was a white goat. Therefore it did not have a tan coat.

THREE MEN SLAIN, THREE HURT IN FIGHT IN DARK

Baylor (Mo.) Miner Shoots Out All the Lights in Boarding House as Row Starts.

REVIEW, Mo., Dec. 1.—In a drunken brawl at a local camp south of here early today three men were killed and several injured severely. All were Italian coal diggers. Sheriff Holroy and several deputies left here today to search for John Groggoli, who is wanted in connection with the murder of a man.

According to witnesses, Groggoli at the outbreak of the trouble, which occurred in a boarding house, cut out all the lights in the establishment and the fight went on in the dark. Groggoli, brother of John, was stabbed through the heart. Paul Berella and an unidentified Italian were shot to death.

Car Friction Boy's Head. Adam Baber Jr., 15-year-old son of Adam Baber of 511 North Twenty-sixth street, St. Louis, was struck by a work car of the East St. Louis & Suburban Railway Co. at Twenty-fifth and State streets, Sunday, and the workman was killed.

FOUR MEMBERS OF WAITERS' UNION ORDERED TO JAIL

Judge Grimm Imposes Sentences for Failure to Pay Fines for Contempt.

Judge Grimm ordered commitments issued Monday against four members of the Waiters' Union, and directed the Sheriff to confine them in jail for the nonpayment of fines imposed for contempt of court in violating an injunction restraining the locked out waiters from allowing pickets in front of Nagel's cafe. Those against whom commitments were issued are: George Ringler, business agent of the Waiters' Union; William H. Heffron, Thomas Hooper and Oscar Close. Heffron had been fined $5 and the others $10 each.

The injunction was issued by Judge Grimm and restrained waiters and members of their union from singly or in numbers acting as pickets in front of Nagel's cafe, prohibited them from distributing cards or circulars at that place, and from interfering with customers of the restaurant. The four men were arrested after a fight in front of the cafe in which Frank Primin was assaulted. Heffron was accused of being the captain of the pickets on duty at the time. Close was charged with assaulting Primin. Ringler was held responsible for the presence of the pickets as an officer in the Waiters' Union.

Heffron and Ringler were in the courtroom when Judge Grimm made the order. They said they would serve the sentence as a protest against the issuance of injunctions in strikes. Hooper is now a waiter at the Noonday Club. The men will be allowed $5 a day in jail in payment of their fines and costs. Judge Grimm appraised the costs in each case at $11. Heffron will be required to serve 15 days and the others 12 days each, under this ruling.

After the four men were fined some time ago, following a fight in front of Nagel's cafe, they filed motions for review. Heffron, Ringler and Close withdrew their motions a week ago and expressed their willingness to go to jail for the cause of the union. Judge Grimm denied a new trial to Hooper and then ordered commitments for all four.

JURY COMPLETED FOR KNARE MURDER TRIAL

SHREVEPORT, La., Dec. 1.—A jury was completed today to try William B. Knare for the murder of Dr. James H. Knare. All but one are farmers. After the jurors had been sworn Judge Knare told them he had decided to keep them together during the trial and on Monday morning to give them time to talk over the case.

MRS. DOXEY GETS 3 MONTHS IN JAIL GUILTY OF BIGAMY

Sentence Which is Imposed Following Her Plea in Court at Clayton Is Likely to Be Spent in City Hospital as She Is Called "Physical Wreck."

PENALTY IMPOSED AS SHE LIES ON FLOOR

Father Will Pay the $1 Fine and $250 Costs Woman Who Was Tried and Acquitted on a Charge of Murder.

Mrs. Dora Elizabeth Fuller-Downing-Doxey-Fraser-Whitney pleaded guilty, in Judge Wurdeman's court at Clayton Monday, to the charge of bigamy, in her marriage to William J. Erber, a St. Louis mail clerk, for whose murder she was later tried. A sentence of the month's imprisonment in the county jail was imposed, but because of her physical condition, it is likely that the time will be spent in the city hospital where she nominally will be a patient. She must also pay a $10 fine and a $250 costs.

This disposition of the last remaining charge against the much-married woman, center of a famous poisoning case three years ago, was reached only after the bigamy charge had reached its thirteenth setting. Her illness was the cause of the continuance, which has caused the case to drag along since September, 1910.

Carried Into Courtroom. She was carried into the courtroom on a stretcher at 12:30 p. m., after she had lain for two hours in an ambulance near the courthouse. During the two hours, her lawyer, Charles F. Johnson, and her father, Jefferson Fuller of Jay, Mo., and her latest husband, Fred Whitney, a ranchman of Gretna, Idaho, were in conference with Judge Wurdeman, Judge Lashly and Judge R. Noll, presiding prosecutor.

A crowd which blocked the hall delayed the entrance of the stretcher and its bearers. From the small courtroom, to which only 15 spectators were admitted, Mrs. Whitney was conveyed to an ante-room, where four physicians examined her. Then she was taken back into the courtroom and was laid on the floor.

Attorney Johnson announced his withdrawal of the previous plea of not guilty, and entered the plea of guilty, as stated the sentence which, it had been agreed, would be acceptable. Judge Wurdeman gave his approval, and Mrs. Whitney was borne into the ante-room in the Sheriff's custody.

Called on Physical Wreck. Dr. G. C. Eggers, reporting to the court on the prisoner's condition, said she was a physical wreck and that she was not likely to be well recovered. It was decided that, as hospital facilities are lacking in the Clayton jail, she should be sent to the St. Louis city hospital. There her care will cost the county $5 cents a day.

Fuller, who is hearing his daughter's financial burdens, said he did not have enough money with him to pay the fine and costs, but that he would wire home for the amount. Whitney is "broke," Attorney Johnson declared. He said the woman came here from Idaho a few days ago on money furnished by Fuller.

"This outcome of the case is not victory for anyone in particular," said Johnson. "It seemed the only humane way of disposing of this poor, weak humanity—this woman who once had such a charm for men. She could not have gone through the ordeal of a trial and another continuance would have done no good."

Her Sister Disappeared. Miss Kate Erber, who has been assisting in her effort to bring legal action on the woman who trapped her brother into a bigamous marriage, followed by his death, said she was satisfied with the lightness of the sentence, but that she felt relieved in the case had been disposed of and the woman's guilt, as to the poisoning, was admitted.

The woman was the wife of Dr. B. Doxey of Columbia, Mo., who came to St. Louis in 1909, with short courtship, married, and then he died, soon afterward, and she was left a widow. She was tried in 1910 for the murder of her husband, and was acquitted.

Convict Escapes. LAWRENCE, Mo., Dec. 1.—A convict, who had escaped from the Missouri State Penitentiary, was captured today by Sheriff of the county and sent to the Missouri State Penitentiary.

ESTIMONY TAKEN SECRETLY IN THE GREEN-HUGHES SUIT

Alienist, Who Wanted Depositions Made Openly, Is the First Witness.

WOMAN LODGES CAMERAS

Former Mrs. Russell E. Gardner's Lawyer Was Insistent That Hearing Be Private.

Mrs. Annette C. Green's opposition to her $100,000 suit against Dr. Mary Ray Hughes, an alienist, will be taken privately, although Vital Records, attorney for Dr. Hughes, insisted Monday the hearing be open to the public. After the hearing, the alienist, Commissioner Clarence T. Case, returned to the hearing room at 9:30 a. m. behind closed doors. The Rialto Building offices of R. M. Shubert, attorney for Mrs. Green, were the first to give his opinion. He was followed by Ben Van Cleave, president of the Van Cleave Lumber Co., who resides at 6050 Grand avenue, the apartment building in which Mrs. Green also lives. Van Cleave was upon the stand when an hour's adjournment was taken at 1 p. m. and resumed his testimony at the afternoon session, behind the closed doors.

The Dodge Camera Men. Mrs. Green walked out of the Rialto Building at 1 p. m. and found herself facing a battery of newspaper photographers. She turned her face to one side and hid her features with a book she held in her hand. Accompanied by her husband, Edward W. Green, a real estate dealer, and her son, Russell E. Gardner Jr., she walked two blocks east on Olive street to 45th, all the while dodging the camera squad.

Mrs. Green, who is the former wife of well-known Dr. Gardner, a wealthy busy physician, was a half hour ahead of the camera men when she arrived at her attorney's offices at 8:30 a. m. to attend the deposition hearing. She wore a dark dress and a turban hat. She and her husband sat in a corner of the law office until 9 a. m., awaiting the arrival of Green and Commissioner Case.

Mrs. Green's claim was increased from $100,000 to $100,000 in an amended petition, which she filed in the Circuit Court Saturday. The sum claimed, she alleges, is that which she gave him to invest for her in September, 1911. She says she relied on his statement as to the safety of the investment. In this amended petition, she gave a general outline of the basis of her claim. She stated that Dr. Hughes was her physician, and was her adviser and agent in financial matters. She said she gave the money to him to be placed on stock of the Van Cleave Lumber Co. This concern, she says, Dr. Hughes represented to her as a large dividend-paying company.

Later, she stated, she learned that Van Cleave owed Dr. Hughes $10,000 on a note, and that Dr. Hughes transferred the indebtedness to her, without her knowledge. The note, she said, was not since paid, and the stock given as security for it, she alleged, was of little value. She said Dr. Hughes refused to return her $10,000 in exchange for the note and stock.

HUGS STOP E. ST. LOUISAN GET A BOTTLE OF COFFEE

On his way to work Sunday night, Howard Hooper of 1300 Exchange avenue, East St. Louis, was held up by three men, one armed with a revolver, and the other two with knives. Hooper was robbed of a bottle of coffee he was carrying for his midnight lunch, a sack of smoking tobacco and a street car pass book.

Hooper told the police that as he was leaving the street the men accosted him and commanded him to hold up his hands. As Hooper's hands went up one of the highwaymen seized the bottle of coffee. While one held the revolver at Hooper's head, the others searched his clothes.

MALARIA RATE ADVANCES

Excessive Increase Among Philippine Troops.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Medical officers of the army are studying what they regard as an excessive malaria rate among the white troops in the Philippines. The rate in that disease went up last year to 133, as compared with 125 in the previous year. This increase is attributed by the medical officers in the Philippines to the unusual amount of field service exacted of the troops during the past year. The records show that the increase in malaria corresponded with the movement of troops from garrison to the field and back.

IN SUFFRAGE

MRS. CARRIE BAHRENBURG

SUFFRAGISTS IN CONVENTION; 1000 WOMEN PRESENT

Delegates From Every State Attend Forty-Fifth Session in Washington.

By Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The forty-fifth annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association got fully under way here today with Dr. Anna Howard Shaw presiding over an assembly of nearly 1000 delegates from all states of the Union. The delegates, who were gathered at the same time Vice-President Marshall and Speaker Clark called to order a Congress which the suffragists expect to do much for their cause.

A constitutional amendment extending the ballot to women throughout the nation is the goal for which a week of meetings, speeches and hearings before committees of Congress will work. Among the delegates present at the opening session was Mrs. Carrie Bahrenberg of Belleville, Ill., a leader of the suffragists in her state. She has served as a quorum on the board of the State university.

The Executive Committee voted to raise the national budget on a fixed basis, partly by assessment on the State and auxiliary organizations, in proportion to their budgets. The convention as a whole will consider a new constitution tomorrow.

Ellnor Byrnes, in charge of publicity for the association, made an appeal for more money to carry on that work. "There is no cause more remarkable and unprejudiced demand for information about suffrage and suffrage events," she said. "We are new as we have never been before. Moreover, we are not only amusing and sometimes surprising, but we are of real intellectual and political interest."

SHAW'S GARDEN TO HAVE KING'S HIGHWAY GATE

Plans Announced After Purchase of Old School Site at Auction Sale.

Plans for a King's highway entrance to Shaw's Garden were announced with the purchase Monday by A. D. Cunningham, secretary of the Missouri Botanical Association, of the old Shaw School building site at King's highway and Old Manchester road.

The price paid was $11,000. The purchase was made at an auction sale of abandoned school buildings held at the St. Louis Real Estate Exchange under the direction of Charles F. Mahan, secretary and treasurer.

The auction attracted a large crowd of spectators, and Secretary Cunningham got the prize only after a sharp contest. Bids are being drawn for several parcels for the proposed King's highway entrance.

UP FRONT' BEFORE BRIDE'S FATHER

William Deshore Pawns Another's Coat for Funds When Annulment Suit Is Pending.

NOT TO BE PROSECUTED

Father of Helen Dorothy Oliver, 16 Years Old, Seeks to Rid Her of New Husband.

Fred William Deshore, 19 years old, of 518 Delmar boulevard, was a prisoner Monday at police headquarters because he stole a fellow roomer's suit, which he pawned it in his effort, as he said, to "keep up a front" while he continued a siege for his 16-year-old bride, Helen Dorothy Oliver of 1184 Union boulevard.

"I wanted to make John C. Oliver, Dorothy's father, believe I was capable of earning a living and providing for Dorothy," Deshore told reporters. "I had been depending upon my sister for funds to tide me over while I was in St. Louis, but recently I ran short and was unable to find work here."

Restitution Is Offered. Deshore confessed to the police he took the overcoat last Monday from the room of Coleman C. Keeler, on the second floor of the rooming house at the Delmar boulevard address. Keeler did not miss the coat until Saturday night when he told the police he suspected Deshore, who occupied a third-floor room.

Deshore was arrested Saturday night. He confessed Monday and told Keeler he would try to redeem the overcoat, on which he had obtained $20. Keeler said he did not care to prosecute.

Deshore has been in St. Louis several months, trying to overcome his father-in-law's objections to his marriage to his childhood sweetheart, for he had known Dorothy ever since they were babies in Minago Junction, O. Dorothy's father, a traveling salesman, moved from Minago Junction to St. Louis last December. Her grandfather died last April and Dorothy went to Minago Junction for the funeral. From there she eloped with Deshore to Walling, W. Va., where the Rev. W. J. Holmes, a Presbyterian clergyman, performed the marriage ceremony.

Police Announced Suit. Deshore and his child-bride, who was a Selden High School student, became frightened after their marriage. "I'll go home and write you how papa takes it," the bride promised, as she left Minago Junction to return to St. Louis. Subsequent events proved Dorothy's father was decidedly opposed to the elopement. About a month ago he filed suit in the Circuit Court to have the marriage annulled.

Deshore had been residing in Minago Junction with his sister, the wife of a wealthy grocer, who financed her brother's stay in St. Louis.

DESERTED FIVE HOURS AFTER WEDDING; SUES

Attorney for Women Says She Jilted Fiance to Marry Man She Now Seeks to Divorce.

Mrs. Jessie Beauchemin, 30 years old, of Glenora, filed suit at Clayton Monday to divorce Charles J. Beauchemin, 30, who, she alleges, deserted her five hours after their marriage at Kansas City, Aug. 25, 1913.

Floyd W. Brooks of Valley Park, Justice of the Peace and attorney for Mrs. Beauchemin, after filing the suit said his client had married Beauchemin after breaking her engagement to a young Valley Park man.

"Beauchemin came from Panama and wooed my client by canoeing on the Meramec River in the moonlight," Brooks said. "He was a friend of the young man to whom Jessie had been engaged." Mrs. Beauchemin is the adopted daughter of Edward Lewis, a Valley Park farmer.

He threw out his hand for support and burned it on the hot stove.

HOW TO KEEP ACTIVE

When Old Age Overtakes Us. Mrs. John Widmayer of Jackson, Mich., says: "Although 69 years of age, and naturally, because of my advanced age, in an enfeebled condition, I can truthfully say that Vinol has done wonders to keep me as active as I am. It is the best medicine to create strength that I ever saw. This spring I was very much run down and work out but I took Vinol and soon felt stronger and able to work about the house. I can recommend Vinol as a very invigorating tonic."

Should the system get run down—digestive organs weak—the blood thin and sluggish—take Vinol, which is a delicious combination of the medicinal body-building properties of cod's livers with the useless added. We regard Vinol as one of the greatest body-builders and strength creators in the world for aged people.

We wish every feeble old person in this vicinity would try Vinol on our agreement to return their money if it fails to give satisfaction. Chester Kent & Co. Chemists. For sale by Wolf-Willson Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo.

Our New Picture Dept. Is Complete and Is Beautiful Beyond Description
We are pleased to make formal announcement of the completion of the Picture Gallery on the Fourth Floor, which is devoted exclusively to the exhibition of pictures and objects of art. The gallery is beautifully lighted, making the display especially comprehensive.
In one room are shown carbon photographs, sepia prints and autotype prints in black and brown. In another room will be found hand-colored photographs, water colors, colored photographs and similar pictures. In another room you will see the newest of pictures—"Hollywood Oil Prints." These beautiful pictures are exceptionally fine photographs of famous paintings in the galleries of the old world and are painted in oil colors and are exceptionally fine reproductions of the originals. In still another room will be found original oil paintings of fine quality, mezzotints, limited edition pictures, original artists' signed proofs and other pictures of merit.
This gallery, aside from its educational standpoint—reflecting as it does the world's most famous pictures—is most beautiful and interesting. You should make it a part of your winter holiday.

photographed yesterday on the S.S. George Washington

NEW YORK, Dec. 1. House bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, who were married at the Hoboken pier of the New York and New Jersey Railroad, sailed on a honeymoon trip on the liner George Washington yesterday.

The "honeymooners" maintained their plans, but it is said that they will land at Plymouth and then, a quiet little fishing trip in the English Channel, where they spent many vacation days when President of Princeton university.

ly yesterday to go on strike at midnight. The union, which includes the commercial chauffeurs, is one of the strongest in the city and has between 1500 and 2000 members.

A special dispensation for milk wagons driven by union teamsters was made and drivers of business are exempt from the strike action. Organized Farrell also announced there would be no interference with the mail or other Government wagons or automobiles or with the wagon or motor of the express companies. He said arrangements would be made for delivering supplies to hospitals so that there would be no added suffering among the sick.

The demands of the teamsters were drafted last Sunday and submitted to the employers during the week.

Wage Scale Is Demanded.
The demands include a wage scale and changes of working conditions, which vary according to the kind of work done. The wage scale for drivers of horse wagons range from $14 to $18 a week and for chauffeurs from $14 to $18 a week. The hours of labor range from eight to 12 hours a day. The union did not demand a "closed shop," but that there should be no discrimination against union men.

For four months Indianapolis has been agitated by labor troubles which have resulted in the resignation of Mayor Shank, Superintendent of Police Martin J. Ryland and W. E. Davis, President of the Board of Public Safety, and a general shake-up in the city administration.

STRIKERS LOST $175,000

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Dec. 1.—Normal conditions prevailed today in and about the big plant of the General Electric Co. Virtually all the 14,000 strikers who walked out Tuesday returned to their benches.

It is estimated the strikers lost $175,000 in wages.

CAR KILLS A ST. LOUIS SURGEON IN BUFFALO

Dr. William N. D. Bird, Veterinary Expert, Run Down on Street; Funeral Wednesday. BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec. 1.—Dr. William N. D. Bird, a veterinary surgeon, Federal inspector of stockyards for two years and inspector in the Bureau of Animal Industry in St. Louis, was instantly killed here last night when he was struck by a car.

He was a member of 20 veterinary societies, among them being the Valley Veterinary Medical and the Kansas City Veterinary Society. Dr. Bird, 33, was born in Chicago, Ill., lived and later in Emporia, Kan., and was buried in Buffalo Wednesday.

SKULL CRUSHED BY GAS PIPE, MAN IS ROBBED IN STABLE

Contractor Found Unconscious by Wife Beside Horse He Went Out to Feed.

John Meister, 56 years old, of 6188 Victoria avenue, a teaming contractor, was found unconscious by his wife Monday morning in an empty stall in the stable in the rear of his home an hour after he had gone out to feed his horses. His skull had been crushed, and a stained piece of gaspipe three feet long lay nearby.

Meister's pockets were turned inside out, and $150 he had carried was missing, according to his wife. He was taken to the city hospital in a serious condition.

Mrs. Meister told the police her husband went to the stable at 5 a. m. at his usual time, to feed his teams. When he had not returned for breakfast she went to the stable to investigate. She found him lying in the stall.

The police were notified and a nearby doctor was called. He found that Meister's skull had been fractured, apparently by a blunt instrument. He said there was little chance for the man's recovery.

Mrs. Meister believes her husband's assailant knew of his custom to go to the stable each morning, usually with money.

BARS NEW YEAR 'TICKLERS'

Chicago's Mayor Forbids Sale of Horns and Confetti

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—No horns, confetti or "ticklers" will be allowed on the streets here New Year's eve, according to an order issued today by Mayor Harrison. Sale of the forbidden articles will be prohibited. Harrison said he issued the notice now, so that dealers might not offer the plan that they had laid in a large stock of the nuisances.

BOYCOTTED EGGS DROP 5 CENTS IN CHICAGO MARKET

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—The wholesale price of eggs technically classed as "ordinary firsts" declined 5 to 6 cents in South Water street today, as compared with last Saturday, although there was no material increase in receipts. Dealers would not say the drop was due to the women's boycott, but the women derived much satisfaction from it.

Meaning James E. Wilkerson, United States District Attorney, announced that the Chicago Butter and Egg Board, charged with violation of the anti-trust law, would be brought to trial here this week.

News of the trial was received with satisfaction by clubwomen engaged in the egg boycott, although it was not evident to them that the case would affect the price of eggs.

Mrs. John C. Bley, leader of the boycott, said today that her plan of bringing in eggs from the country direct or through the consumer, could not be put into effect immediately.

SENATE PAGES INCREASING THEIR PAY

Resolution Adopted by Youngsters in Mock Session May Results in Serious Move

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—A movement to obtain an increase in pay for Senate pages may be taken up in all seriousness by the youngsters as a result of their mock session of the Senate at the adjournment of the special session. The mock session adopted a resolution providing for this increase and since then the question has been discussed seriously. The boys took riotous possession of the Senate chamber after adjournment Saturday and entertained spectators with a session that shattered all traditions. Many resolutions were presented for discussion, but the one providing for increase in pay was debated with an unrecurrent seriousness.

NEW YORK STATE PRISON CHIEF SAYS TORTURE MUST END

State Superintendent Denounces Brutal Methods of Treating Women in Albany.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 1.—The New York State Commission for Prison Reform, through Dean George W. Kirby, Superintendent of State Prison, who is acting in the absence of the chairman, Thomas Mott Osborne, who is in Europe studying prisons, today gave out correspondence of John B. Riley, Superintendent of State Prison, concerning his views on the discipline recently made by Miss Madeline Sabisky Doty, a member of the Prison Reform Commission, and Miss Elizabeth F. Watson, after these women had served a short voluntary term as "convicts."

While Supt. Riley does not hold the Auburn Prison Matron and her assistants responsible for the rules and system which have been handed by them from the past, he decided in no uncertain terms that the "torture" of the old methods must cease and his instructions to the subordinates in Auburn indicate sweeping reforms.

Substantial Advance of Reforms. Dean Kirby says that the members of the Prison Reform Commission believe that under Supt. Riley the advance of prison reform will be most substantial.

"The old method of government by brute force seems to be carried out," he said. "Just what good can be expected from conversation among the inmates I am unable to say. Why they should be locked in their cells on election day I cannot understand, unless it furnishes the matrons a holiday."

"I don't understand the method adopted for giving the inmates exercise, nor the reason for confining them the first week of their terms in cells all the time. It also seems strange that in a women's prison having a population of less than 100 inmates the food should not be properly cooked. One would think that the institution would immediately on receiving an inmate, undertake to train her in some useful employment by which she might if so disposed, be able to earn an honest living on her discharge, and especially as three-fourths of all these confined will be discharged within three years, and at least nine-tenths of them will be discharged within five years."

Workroom Methods Abused. The methods of discipline as described in the workrooms, and the plan for exercising are so absurd that it seems unnecessary to characterize them. I hope that you will immediately undertake the work of effecting a revolution there, with a view of making the time of imprisonment of each inmate a period during which the time of each shall be so occupied that it will, so far as possible, prepare her to engage in some useful employment on her release.

"The shame and humiliation of conviction, and the confinement in a cell for 15 hours a day, and practically 40 hours intervening between Saturday and Monday morning, are surely punishment enough to deter any normal human being from wishing to undergo the experience. I do not believe anyone was ever reformed by physical torture, and such torture as is inflicted upon the inmates of the women's prison must not continue."

"I am aware that certain conditions at Auburn made it impossible, to do what ought to be done for the unfortunate women who are confined there. I shall recommend to the Legislature the immediate erection of a new prison for women."

Wingside Urged as Site. "Should the Commission on New Prisons decide to abandon Wingside as a site for the proposed new men's prison it would be, in my opinion, especially suited as a site for a prison for women. It would furnish an opportunity to give inmates employment in the open air, and would save in transportation charges, as most of the women inmates come from Greater New York."

After Supt. Riley had received the formal reply of Matron Nettie M. Leonard of Auburn he wrote to Warden Rattigan, in part, as follows:

"The important thing that Matron Leonard seems to have failed to appreciate, is that it is serious punishment for any normal person to be confined in a cell from 4:30 p. m. until 6:30 a. m. every day and on Sunday from 12:15 until the following Monday morning. I regard this as ample punishment for the most hardened criminals, and I do not think they ought to be tortured otherwise so long as their conduct is good. There is no law applying to State prisons which requires inmates on arriving to be locked continuously in cells for 14 days or longer, and I regard any such rule as being cruel in the extreme and entirely unwarranted, and it should be discontinued at once."

Would Encourage Writing. "Regarding the regulation prohibiting inmates from writing the first letter to relatives or friends within two weeks of their reception, I should say that on their arrival they should at least be given the opportunity to write, and instead of being deprived of the privilege, they should be encouraged to do so."

"I observe with pleasure that convicts are allowed to converse at breakfast and dinner on Sundays and holidays. Why they should be so treated, and I do not think they ought to be tortured otherwise so long as their conduct is good. There is no law applying to State prisons which requires inmates on arriving to be locked continuously in cells for 14 days or longer, and I regard any such rule as being cruel in the extreme and entirely unwarranted, and it should be discontinued at once."

There is no law applying to State prisons which requires inmates on arriving to be locked continuously in cells for 14 days or longer, and I regard any such rule as being cruel in the extreme and entirely unwarranted, and it should be discontinued at once."

"I regard regulation of this character, for a women's prison especially, as physical torture of the highest kind. It is possible that a regulation may be made and that such regulations may be considered mental torture, but in one aspect or the other, it seems to me to be needless torture."

"SAFETY FIRST," ELLIOTT'S POLICY ON NEW HAVEN

Former St. Louisan in Magazine Tells His Purposes in
"Hardest Job."

Howard Elliott, who was for many years general manager of the Burlington route, with headquarters in St. Louis, and who recently became chairman of the Board of Directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, has published in the December World's Work a statement of his purposes in the management of that much criticized railroad.

Owing to the widespread criticism of the former management of the New Haven, and the many disastrous accidents on the road, it has been said in railroad circles that Elliott has undertaken the "hardest railroad job in the United States."

While admitting the necessity of Government supervision of railroads, Elliott protests against its regulation and supervision, going so far as to take the real power of management away from those who have invested their money in them. He holds also that the railroad ought to be permitted by the Interstate Commerce Commission to charge higher rates for their service so that they may maintain proper equipment, make necessary betterment and pay their stockholders and bondholders a fair rate of earnings on their investments.

"Get Ready for Ownership," This will have to be done if Government ownership is to be avoided, he said, and he holds that the United States, with its present political conditions, is not yet ready for Government ownership.

The railroads, like the shoe maker's horse, he declares, have been fed on a diet of "sheep" for so long that they are likely to meet the fate of the horse.

Taking up the problem of the New Haven Railroad, Chairman Elliott says safety of the passengers and the employees is to be made the first consideration. With that idea in mind, the running schedule of some of the fast trains has been lengthened, and the company is having its signal system and practices examined by a committee of experts not connected with the railroad, with the intention of correcting any defects it may find.

The company also is trying, he says, to put its most efficient men in charge of the engines that move the longer trains and valuable property belonging to the public. The seniority of service rule will be followed, wherever practicable, he says, but not to the extent of impairing the service. While recognizing the right of employees to organize, Elliott says the seniority rule adopted by the unions cannot be enforced in all cases, especially where the efficiency of the service might be impaired.

Wherever possible, the older men will get preference, he says, but where they are inefficient, they must give way to those who are better prepared to serve the road, and at the same time the public.

"Associated With High Purpose," "We of the New Haven are animated with a high purpose to do our full duty," Elliott says. "We have no desire for self-aggrandizement or self-glorification. Man fashion, we must take the situation as it is and carry the burden as well as we can. We must be thankful for the good things of the past, and try to improve the situation that we have come after us will be thankful for some good work and not too uncharitable about the mistakes that will undoubtedly be made. We will try, however, not to make the same mistakes twice."

"It does not seem that any positive beneficial results can be obtained by lack of confidence and by continuous wrangling. If the people cannot trust their railroad management, and if the railroad management cannot trust the people of New England, a situation is created that is unfortunate now and more unfortunate for the future. But I believe we can all trust one another. Intelligent and wholesome criticism is asked for and expected. Such criticism is a spur to the management to be faithful to their trust and careful in their work."

"Our reward will come if, in time, this complicated machine can be so adjusted that it will run smoothly, without friction, pay a fair return to the owners, and become so much a part of the daily life of the public that no more attention will be paid to it than is now paid to drawing water from a faucet, or turning on an electric light."

"Will we not advance the interests of New England and the peace, prosperity and contentment of its people if we are careful to be temperate and accurate in our statements and in criticisms of others, and if we try to follow the principles which the patient Lincoln laid down:

"CONSPIRACY AND PERJURY CONVICTED ME," BECKER'S PLEA

ALBANY, N. Y., Dec. 1.—A conspiracy which found its support in perjured testimony but former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker in the Sing Sing death house for the murder of Herman Rosenthal, attorney for the convicted man argued today in the Court of Appeals.

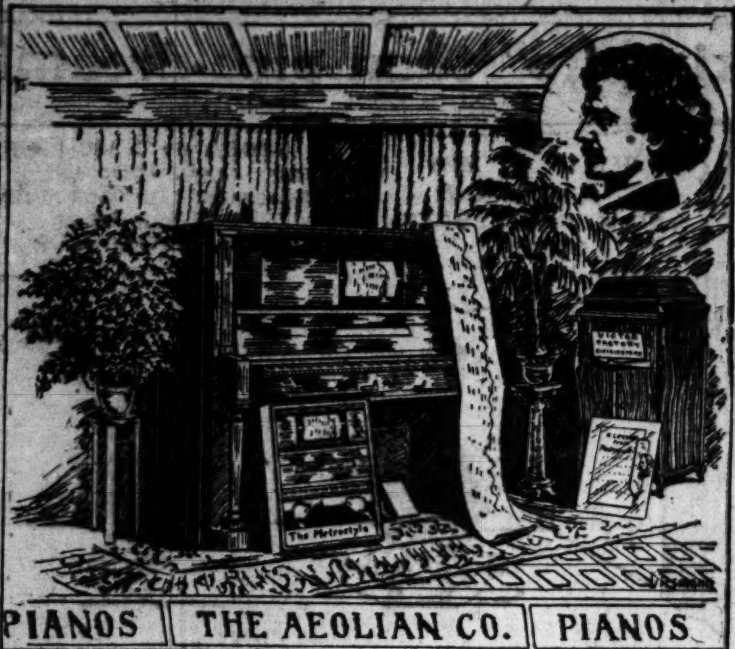

Justice Goff, who denied Becker a new trial, and District Attorney Whitman, who prosecuted the case, were criticized severely. Becker's counsel appealed from the order denying their motion for a new trial and asked for a reversal of judgment. A decision in the case is not expected for three months.

Mrs. Becker was in the courtroom by the special request of her husband. Twenty-five reasons why the judgment of the lower court should be reversed were given by Attorney Joseph A. Shay. Chief among them were:

The trial was unfair; error was committed in excluding evidence; San Sclappe's plan was an accomplice; the verdict was opposed to the weight of the evidence; innumerable incidents which occurred during the trial were prejudicial to the defendant, including the argumentative charges.

The date of the alleged meeting in Harlem between Becker and the gunmen never was set positively and, inasmuch as it would be impossible to fix this date on a new trial, the incident ought to be dismissed.

PADEREWSKI INTERPRETATION OF MUSIC SHOWN IN WINDOW

PIANOS THE AEOLIAN CO. PIANOS

Mechanical Device Attracts Crowds to Watch Demonstration at Aeolian Co.'s Store.

Of all the music stores along that part of Olive street known as "Piano Row," none attracted more attention Monday than that of the Aeolian company.

There was a novelty in the show window and novelties always attract crowds.

In this particular novelty Paderewski, the world's greatest pianist, figures as the star attraction in the abstract if not in the concrete, for the reason that the attraction is a practical demonstration of how the great musician's interpretation of a classic may be followed minutely by a layman.

This easy method of imitating Paderewski as well as other great masters is demonstrated by a pointer that follows the red line on a roll in the player-piano. This pointer is an exclusive invention that makes fine piano playing so simple that a child becomes a Paderewski without having to take lessons.

In making the demonstration, the Aeolian company has a false hand worked by a mechanical device to show how easy it is to operate the little lever backward and forward that follows the red line on the roll of music.

The title of the demonstration in the window is, "Taking a Music Lesson From Paderewski." This pointer in the player-piano handled by the Aeolian company is considered one of the clever devices of advanced musical inventions. The Aeolian company is known in all parts of the world, as it has branches in every principal city of the globe. In all of these stores rolls are for sale containing the red line that gives the interpretation of either the author or some great pianist like Paderewski.

DEPARTMENTS ASK $1,108,681,777 TO RUN U. S. A YEAR

Estimates by Officials Fall $39,255,066 Below Those of Preceding Year.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Congress will have to appropriate just $1,108,681,777 to operate the Government of the United States during the fiscal year, 1915, according to the estimates prepared by each department and sent to the House today by Secretary McAdoo of the Treasury.

The estimates submitted today are $32,864,007 in excess of the appropriations for the last fiscal year, but their total falls $39,255,066 below the estimates for that year.

Navy Wants More Than Army.

The estimates are as follows:

Legislative establishment, $7,533,331.

Postoffice Department, including postal post, $208,543,127.

Executive establishment, $90,809,353.

Judicial establishment, $1,242,110.

Department of Agriculture, $19,061,323.

Foreign intercourse, $4,447,042.

Military establishment, $108,357,544.

Naval establishment, $120,831,563.

Indian affairs, $10,208,855.

Pensions, $169,150,000.

Public works, $97,917,592.

Miscellaneous, $84,338,313.

Permanent annual appropriations, $151,196,407.

More Money for Militia Wanted.

The estimates for the organized militia are larger by many millions than in previous years. The sum of $1,500,000 for field camps of instruction, $400,000 for equipment of coast artillery armories, $2,100,000 for field artillery material, and $3,000,000 for ammunition for such artillery for militia are asked.

For armament in fortifications the estimate is $5,836,900, an increase of more than $3,000,000 over last year. This $3,000,000 is to be expended in the purchase, manufacture and test of ammunition for mountain, field and siege cannon and a large part of the remainder is to be used in altering old style field and coast artillery guns.

One of the most interesting items in the long list of estimates is that of $475,000 for salaries and expenses of special attorneys, examiners and agents of the Bureau of Corporations, an increase of $200,000 over last year. In a note accompanying the request for this additional sum Congress is told:

"This increase is due entirely to the plan projected for additional work to be done by the Bureau of Corporations."

Secretary McAdoo estimates that he will need $1,500,000 to collect the income tax. He says an increase is necessary because the tax collection machinery will be perfected by the time the appropriation is made, and because investigations will be made to determine cases of tax evasion in previous years.

For continuing rivers and harbors work, the War Department says it needs $41,433,885, which includes Ohio River below Pittsburgh improvement with a view to securing a navigable depth of nine feet, $5,000,000; improving Mississippi from head of passage to the Ohio, $3,000,000; Mississippi from Ohio's mouth to Minneapolis, $2,000,000; and improving Missouri River between mouth and Fort Benton, $2,000,000.

"Old Scout" Wiggins Dies.

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 1.—Oliver F. (Old Scout) Wiggins, one of Denver's most famous early frontiersmen, died here today at the age of 80. Wiggins came across the plains in 1858. He was a member of Kit Carson's famous company of frontiersmen and served under Carson in the Mexican War, where he was wounded at the Battle of Monterrey.

30 Miles an Hour by Motor Boat.

PARIS, Dec. 1.—Paul Tissandier yesterday beat the world's record for speed on water in a test with his new type glider auto-boat at Trianon on the Seine.

He attained an average of 30 miles an hour (34 miles an hour) in a test with his new type glider auto-boat at Trianon on the Seine.

LOCAL BASEBALL BOSSES RETURNING TO MEND FENCES

Britton, Huggins and Hedges All Due Back in St. Louis on Business.

FEDS BOTHER RIVALS

Hedges in Particular Annoyed at Persistent Reports of Signing of Stars.

By W. J. O'Connor.

Manager Miller Huggins of the Cardinals is scheduled to reach here Tuesday from Cincinnati for a conference with his overlord, "Big" Britton, who returns this week from a turkey day sojourn in Cleveland. President Hedges, who also will be in St. Louis, is expected to return from his trip to the coast, and it is believed that the baseball bosses are preparing to build their fences before their rivals are. The Cardinals, who are essentially a Western organization, have concentrated their attack on St. Louis. The "out-laws" make no bones of the fact that they have talked contract to all the good players (if there are such animals) on the local club. Messrs. Jagnev, Baumgardner, Shotton and Levens of the Browns and Koney, Harmon, Magee and Hauser of the Cardinals are some of the players sought by the Cardinals.

Roger Goes to Redland.

Withal, President Britton of the Cardinals is the least worried man in baseball. His conference with Manager Huggins here this week will, he declared, be a matter of the proposition of trades. Britton and his manager will attend the National League meeting in New York next week, and it is their earnest hope that they will be able to barter at least six of the present crew of Cardinals. A deal with New York is pending, while a wholesale swap with Cincinnati also is in the offing. There's a report heard on the sport rattle that Roger Bresnahan will be the next boss in Redland, going to Cincinnati in exchange for Joe Tinker, who is sought by Evans as a Cub shortstop for next season.

If Bresnahan gets control of the Reds he may put through a deal for some of his pet players in the Cardinals, and there are some members of the local crew who would welcome a return to Rogers' school of baseball. However, Mr. Koney has a record with the statement that he will accept almost anything but a Federal League berth would be more acceptable. The Big Train declares that until the Federal League builds a ball park, Koney should not be so defiant.

Deal May Involve Many Cards.

The proposed deal with Cincinnati may be a whopper. It may involve the transfer of Koney, Magee, Harmon, Wingo and Miller to the Reds, and in return, the Cardinals may get a big trade in pending, but it is not some to a head until the new manager is named in Redland. This piece of business may be taken up most any time and the appearance of Bresnahan in the managerial chair at Cincinnati will surely only a few.

Manager's salary is too big a burden for O'Connell.

Brickley and Mahan Sure of All-Eastern Positions Other Places Dubious

Great Abundance of Football Stars Exists, but Few Stand Out as Supreme on Both Defense and Offense, Expert Writes.

By Herbert Reed.

Former Cornell Star and the Post-Dispatch's Eastern Football Representative. NEW YORK, Dec. 1.

MODERN football is not played by 11 men, hence I have chosen 18 for my hypothetical all-Eastern eleven, in each case taking thought of the special fitness of certain of the men on attack or defense.

In some cases a player has proved equally strong in both branches of play and he has been chosen for both the offense and defensive teams.

I consider that real offense begins after the team has crossed the center of the field, and that prior to that time little or nothing in the way of advanced offense should be shown. This is in the main the Eastern idea, and since this is an all-Eastern and not all-Western or all-American eleven, the defense is of paramount importance. Right or wrong, that is the way the game is played in this section.

Beginning with the ends, I have chosen O'Hearn of Cornell and O'Brien of Harvard, in the face of the fact that the former was unable to finish the season because of injury and that the latter was responsible for the safety scored by Yale.

O'Hearn was the hardest man to put off his feet in the entire country, a fact admitted by Western coaches as well as Eastern, and his ability to diagnose the play was not matched by any other end playing the game.

O'Brien is much the same type of player and when he made his one mis-play in the Harvard-Yale game he did only what any other player on either team probably would have done. Even the coaches on the sidelines did not know that he had not made a touch back until the official ruling was announced.

Another Type Required.

When our hypothetical team crosses the middle of the field, however, a report heard on the sport rattle that Roger Bresnahan will be the next boss in Redland, going to Cincinnati in exchange for Joe Tinker, who is sought by Evans as a Cub shortstop for next season.

ST. LOUIS BOXERS FACE HARD TESTS IN COMING FIGHTS

Billy Grupp and Harry Trendall Oppose Buck Crouse and Packey McFarland.

Oakes Only Cardinal Batter Who Didn't Suffer Slump Last Season

NATIONAL League batting averages, just issued officially, show why the Cardinals finished at the tail end of the Lynch League procession. Manager Huggins' men were a bad last in batting, having a team average of .247, which was nine points worse than Boston, who ran seventh. The Cubs, although third in the ultimate standing of the clubs, were sixth in batting for the season, while the Superbas, down in the rut at the end of the season, got second place in batting. New York led the League with .273.

Kenzie T. (alias Red) Oakes was the one surprise of the Cardinal club. Red com-

Rated on their ability with the bat, the first sackers in the National League would be arranged in the following sequence: Daubert, .350; Baker, .339; Hobbins, .335; Koney, .324; Myers, .323; Miller, .312; Loderus, .303, and Morris, .291.

A lot of folks have overlooked this fellow Baker. When passing around the books it would be foolish not to give the Cubs young hustler a deal of attention. He ran second to Daubert as a batting first sacker and equalled the Brooklyn man in run-getting, 81--74, and also in stolen bases, 11--14. Baker, as considered, is about the premier first-sacker in the National League today. He led the league in collecting three baggers, getting a grand total of 31. William of Pittsburgh and Koney of the Cards used to be the best three-baggers.

Harry Trendall, the "pride of the patch," is the other St. Louis boxer who will have his troubles this week. Harry is named to oppose Packey McFarland in an eight-round mill at the National Athletic Club's Coliseum Thursday.

Trendall permits Packey to come in at catch weights. Ordinarily this would be a good thing for Harry, for McFarland making catch weights might take liberties with his condition and training, figuring he could defeat Trendall handsily.

Unfortunately, McFarland has a fight with Jack Britton only a week or so distant, in which he will have to do 127 pounds, and this has forced him to work for Trendall. McFarland will therefore be certain to be in good condition when he shows here.

Harry's chance would have been greatly improved had McFarland's bout with Britton been a month, instead of a week distant.

Trendall has fought McFarland before, staving the 10-round limit with Packey in Kansas City four or five seasons ago. Trendall's experience against the lightweight of the country make it certain that McFarland will have a harder time Thursday than when they formerly met.

Benny McGovern believes he was handed the warm end of the St. Louis newspaper reports of his fight with Frankie Conley at Springfield, Mo., Thanksgiving. Trendall and McGovern had a good battle, but that Conley had the "stake."

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The retirement of President James R. McAleer, Secretary Robert McRoy and former manager, Jake Stahl from ownership in the Boston (American League) club is declared on good authority here tonight to have been effected through the sale of their stock aggregating a half-interest in the club to Joseph Lannin, a Long Island real estate man, for upwards of $250,000.

M'ALEER TO SELL RED SOX HOLDING TO NEW YORK MAN

On Dec. 10, it is declared, the formal transfer will be effected and new officers elected. The other half of the stock is owned by Gen. Charles H. Taylor and his son, John L. Taylor, and the probability is that John L. Taylor will be elected to the club's presidency, an office from which he retired late in 1911.

The Taylors, it is said, were authorized to give $250,000 for the stock owned by the other interests in the club, but as Lannin was willing to offer more, the Taylors are understood to have signified their willingness to sanction the deal.

Lannin owns a small interest in the Boston (National League) club and recently was elected a director of it. He will sell this stock, it is understood, and will retire from the Board of Directors.

WRAY'S COLUMN

When Real Giants Battle.

SUSPENSION having been lifted from Jess Willard, by the New York Boxing Commission, a battle involving almost one-fourth of a ton of flesh and probably more human power than ever was represented in the ring by two persons, will take place as scheduled, Tuesday evening, at New York. Opposed to Willard will be Carl Morris, the Sapius savathan, who is coming back to life with a rush, all reports from the East have it. Morris, in strictest training, will weigh close to 260 pounds, while Willard scales 235 or better. Willard is 6 feet 5 inches tall, which just about enables him to see the top of Morris' head, the Oklahoma being stunted to 5 feet 4 inches in height.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Smith Was Handed "His." THE more roughing work at close quarters, without any heavy blows being landed by either of the bellemoths involved, would be enough to sap the strength of men like Carl Morris, and win in a finish encounter. Smith has reason to entertain some such idea himself, for he met Morris a short time ago. Smith won on a foul, but the consensus of ringside opinion appears to be that Smith would never have withstood the 10 rounds had a foul not accidentally put an end to the battle.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Willard Stung McCarty. WILLARD is conceded to be a strong, courageous milt wielder. What did to Luther McCarty, then champion, in their fight in the East, will probably be remembered from accounts of the same. Willard, green as a gourd, was being outpointed in the fight, when McCarty stung him. That awoke the full power of the giant youngster. He cut loose and McCarty's career was all but finished right there. McCarty was given a good beating.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Morris Toyed With Belmont. MORRIS is a more experienced fighter than Willard. His physical power was evident in his battle here with "Kingdom Belmont," whom he outted into submission in three rounds, without ever hitting a clean, straight punch. Probably Morris was afraid to use his full power on the frightened St. Louis man.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Willard can do more damage leaning against a rival than many a man could by hitting. His courage has been known since the memorable battle in New York, in which Jim Flynn, a mite of fighting inspiration, cut the big fellow to pieces. Morris was a sight, at the end of the 10 rounds, accounts related; but he smiled, just the same.

WRAY'S COLUMN

TUESDAY'S battle will at least show whether Morris is on a genuine "come back," as his recent record seems to indicate. The one drawback about an engagement of the sort is the danger of a serious casualty. Between men so big and powerful and so capable of inflicting near-fatal damage, there is guar-

Eighty-Five Thousand Dollars

To Our Savings Depositors. Are You One?

Since its organization, this Company has paid its customers interest amounting to over Seven Million Dollars.

$85,485.26 of interest has just been credited to our savings depositors as their earnings for the half-year ending December 1, 1913.

This interest credit exceeds that of June 1, 1913, by over $1,900.00 and that of last December by over $500.00. The number of Mississippi Valley

Savings Accounts is growing steadily.

The fact that we pay interest in December and June, before Christmas and vacation withdrawals, helps to explain this, because it means more money to the depositor.

By opening a Mississippi Valley account any day this week but Saturday, you can get interest from December 1st, and this means a full six months' credit, at 3½%, at profit-collecting time next June.

We Will Be Open This Evening From 5 to 7:30 for Your Savings Account

NEW BILLBOARD SCHEMES OPPOSED BY CIVIC LEAGUE

Bills Prepared by Jephtha D. Howe for Companies and by McKelvey Similar.

"WOULD NULLIFY LAW"
Officials to Demand Enforcement of Restrictions Enacted in 1905.

Officials of the Civic League say they are striking similarity between bills to regulate billboards prepared by Jephtha D. Howe as attorney for the billboard companies, and Building Commissioner James N. McKelvey, and will oppose both at a public hearing in the Council chamber at 3 p. m. Tuesday, on the ground that they would nullify the ordinance of 1905, and leave conditions unchanged.

The 1905 ordinance has been suspended until a few weeks ago, by injunction litigation carried by the billboard companies from the lower courts to the United States Supreme Court, where the suit was withdrawn recently to pave the way for legislative amendments to be proposed by the billboard companies. Jephtha D. Howe was retained as counsel for the Thomas Cusack company known as the "Billboard Trust," and the St. Louis Billposting Co. to draw the new ordinance. Howe never had been employed by either company to represent it in court when the injunction suit was pending.

Howe's Proposals Rejected.
His retention became known only when he visited President Charles A. Stix and other officials of the Civic League, in an attempt to reach an agreement as to amendments of the 1905 ordinance. Howe's first proposal was voted unworthy of consideration by the league officials, and when he added a few amendments, the bill was rejected as a sanction of existing evils complained of. Howe had the bill introduced in the Council, and last week Councilman Henry Rower introduced a similar bill for Building Commissioner McKelvey. The Civic League and other civic bodies worked to eradicate some of the billboard evils prior to 1905 and had an ordinance enacted which was upheld as valid by the Missouri Supreme Court, when attacked by the billboard companies.

The city's attorneys offered evidence in court to show that billboards, constructed as they were then, and at present, except for fireproofing, were a menace to society in many ways. Newspaper accounts of highway robberies, assaults and manslaughter, aided and protected by billboards, were produced. The existence of nuisances in lots behind billboards that prevented a view from the street was dwelt upon.

The 1905 ordinance limited billboards to a height of 14 feet, with a clearance of at least four feet at the ground, and provided that no billboard should be more than 50 feet in length, or closer than six feet to a building. It also restricted their erection to at least 14 feet from the building line. It provided that an annual license of $1 for each lineal foot should be paid to the city by billboard companies, and that if for each 25 square feet of area should be paid for signs on buildings.

Howe Bill Reduces Fee.
The Howe bill, pending in the Public Improvements Committee of the Council, reduces the license to $1 for each 50-foot signboard, and permits double-deckers, 24 feet high, on "special permits." It provides also that the boards may be built within two feet of the ground and flush with the building line.

The McKelvey bill provides that boards may be built within two feet of the ground and flush with the building line, and that double-deckers may be built 24 feet high without even a "special permit." The only restriction on double-deckers is that they must stand back of the building line a distance equal to their height.

Neither the Howe nor McKelvey bills limits the length of a billboard, and neither forbids their erection against a building.

The McKelvey bill provides a license fee of $1 for each 200 square feet of area for billboards, and $1 for each 100 square feet for signs on buildings.

Public Hearing Tuesday.
Councilman Protzman, chairman of the Public Improvements Committee, has announced a public hearing for 3 p. m. Tuesday, at which both the Howe and McKelvey bills will be considered.

Civic League officials say they will ask the Building Committee to enforce the 1905 ordinance now that the injunction suit has been withdrawn. More than 50 per cent of the billboards now in existence are erected in violation of the law. It is estimated by those who have studied the question. The city may remove these boards as nuisances if officials decide to enforce the ordinance.

re From the New York
the Post-Dispatch.
ON, Dec. 1.—Facts con-
ons in Mexico City which ed Washington show at-uch worse shape than is ved.

orst phases of the Span-
ards the helpless people
ling the Spanish-Ameri-

s engaged, the blight of o far as loss of life is fallen with the least
e soldier of either side
d his life in battle, perombatants—men, wom-
—have been slain.

The same process is duplicated when the rebels enter a town through which the Federals have passed. Despite their most desperate efforts to remain neutral, pass and small merchants in the disputed districts are not allowed to do so. They are killed by rope or lead.

Little can be said concerning the suffering of the women of Mexico throughout the unbridled license that the revolution has brought, because the facts
cannot be printed.

When the Government, officially, has a hand in bringing women under the yoke
of degradation. The army has no compassion. Women camp followers are necessary, not only to cook for the soldiers, but to forage for them and transport baggage. Not content with the wholesale impressments among men to fill the depleted ranks of the Federal columns, women by hundreds are seized by Huerta's orders and forced to abandon their homes, husbands and children. These are sent to the front to be companions and cooks for the soldiers. Many of them carry babies in their arms.

Women and Children Perish.
Hundreds of weaker women and many small children have perished through privation and lack of medical atten-dence. In the wake of the Federal armies,
it is well understood in Washington that Huerta's most ambitious enemy at present in the United States, where Zapata's forces have defied government
for three years, has failed miserably.

Huerta tried Weyler's Cuban reconstruction plan there. He went even further. Thousands of peaceful laborers and sugar hacendados, whose production normally makes Morelos one of the richest states in the republic, were arrested on the pretense that they were Zapata sympathizers, torn from their homes and forced into the army. Women and children were driven to the towns in each district in the State. But scarcely a real Zapataist was captured or killed. Zapata still raids at will.

The Federals are unable to catch him.
By playing a soldier almost every yard
of the way, the Government manages to keep the railway into Morelos open as far as Cuernavaca. But outside of Cuernavaca in all directions the Zapatistas roam at will.

The most discouraging feature of a resumé of conditions in Mexico appears to be the apathy of the people and their willingness to stand idly by while their property is destroyed, fathers, sons and male relatives slaughtered or impressed into the Federal army, and wives and daughters insulted.

Here is a typical example which took place last week in San Antonio, Puebla.
San Antonio is a thriving place of about 600 inhabitants, of whom probably 300 are men. Fifty bandits calling themselves rebels, entered a church,
surrounded a sacristan who attempted to hide the plate, jewels and other church
treasures, took what they wanted, breached the interior of the edifice and
crushed a priest and held him for ransom.

Leading Goes on Unmolested.
Hundreds of principal citizens were seized and men and women who refused to yield their jewels and money,
were killed by torture. An orgy followed. Not a man in the village raised hand in his defense.

Bearing officers it is doubtful if one could find in the 80,000 troops which Huerta asserts are on his army rolls
a man who is voluntarily in the army or who owns a peso's worth of property or personal effects.

Virtually all popular support which Huerta enjoyed in the beginning among the Mexicans has dropped away. Mexico has been devastated with Huerta because Huerta deprived the country of a government under which the people for the first time, enjoyed material prosperity without regarding it with suspicion and was better off even as good

General PANCHO VILLA.

their shops and houses. Usually the Federals hang them in preference to shooting.

Huerta promised to supply what Madero
had not succeeded in giving his people—law, order and prosperity—but he has failed absolutely. There is a hundred times more disorder today in Mexico
than there was on Feb. 18, when Huerta seized the executive power. Huerta has gained not a single important victory over the rebels, or retaken one city or town captured by them which they wanted to retain.

Huerta's army will not fight. His officers are incompetent, half-hearted or inclined to sedition. One out of ten of their ranks are not rida at the head of their men for fear of being shot in the back.
Rottenness, disloyalty, ineptness and graft permeates the whole Federal army system. Victoria, Juarez and other important places have recently been surrendered or abandoned by Federals. It is almost a certainty that Chihuahua, Matamoros, Tampico, Monterey and San Luis Potosi will fall, if the rebels only keep hammering away.

Times are harder in Mexico now and the poor in a worse plight than in a decade. Business has suffered appallingly.
By business is meant merchandising.
This is especially true since Huerta, to keep himself going and provide more graft for the parasites who form his little intimate circle, clamped a 50 per cent increase on imports.

With nearly 50 per cent of the production of the National lines out of operation or in the hands of rebels, hundreds of Mexicans who had good railway positions, have been deprived of employment.
Beginning today all stamp taxes were doubled.

Huerta is clanking about in every direction to find something more to tax. He is seeking desperately to borrow money
from abroad, but he cannot get it, according to Washington belief. Already he has made as many forced loans as he dares.

The whole army would follow Blanco.

Many young ladies of St. Louis have been taking Plant Juice as a tonic and strengthener; among them is Miss M. Bicker, who lives at 1509 Vall Place. Miss Bicker has lived in St. Louis seven years and has many friends with whom she is very popular. In speaking of her experience with Plant Juice she says:

"I have been suffering from nervousness and a debilitated, run-down
condition and needed a good tonic,
and so many people were talking

PRESIDENT CALLS MEXICO SITUATION 'VERY INTERESTING'

Remark to Callers Believed to Have Referred to Increased Number of Rebel Victories.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—President Wilson observed to callers today that the Mexican situation seemed to be running things in a very interesting way at present and that no development was contemplated so far as the United States was concerned.

His visitors believed he had in mind
the increasing number of Constitutionalist victories and the diminishing of Huerta's zone of control.

William Bayard Hale, who talked with Gen. Cavanaugh, the Constitutionalist
chief, returned here today and will see the President late today or tomorrow.
He conferred today with Secretary Bryan as a preliminary.

The policy of the American Government continues to be one of waiting,
while the financial blockade weakens the resources of the Huerta regime and the rebels press forward their vigorous campaign.

Rear Admiral Fletcher reported today
he had received further assurances from Gen. Aguilar, the Constitutionalist, that his forces would not interfere with the oil wells around Tampico and Tuxpam.

Huerta Reappears in Capital After Rumored Flight.
MEXICO CITY, Dec. 1.—Provisional President Huerta, whose disappearance from the Federal capital gave rise to many rumors today, returned this afternoon. He had been paying a visit on a farm in the vicinity.

Huerta was reported to have left the Federal capital secretly for Vera Cruz, traveling over the Inter-Oceanic Railroad.

The report originated with railroad officials, who said the General departed at 4 o'clock in the morning on board a special train.

Husband as Recorder.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., 1.—Gov. Ma-

quert, or almost any other man who had sufficient prestige and courage to pronounce against Huerta.

Huerta still claims that Mexico is in the plight it is today because of the refusal of the United States to recognize
him. That is untrue. Even with recognition, Huerta still would be fighting for his official life. Recognition would have done nothing else than to enable Huerta to borrow great sums of money from abroad, which would have been granted and plunged Mexico into the financial mire much deeper than it is today, without enabling him to come near to pacifying the country than he has. Neither would it have lessened the eventual responsibilities of the United States in Mexico. It merely would have delayed the necessity for assuming them.

GIRL TELLS JURY HOW SHE KILLED BROTHER-IN-LAW

May Copeland Says She Fired
Over Shoulder When He Started Toward Her.

MAYFIELD, Ky., Dec. 1.—Two thousand persons today heard Miss May Copeland, the pretty joint defendant in the Turk-Copeland murder trial, tell the jury her story of how she killed Hugh Atchison, her brother-in-law, in the latter's home near Bardwell, Ky., midnight of July 31 last.

She drove to the Atchison home, she said, with her sweetheart, Lucien Turk, who remained in the buggy while she went inside to get some clothing she had left there. When she entered, Hugh Atchison, who lay on the bed, arose
with an oath, Miss Copeland testified,
and asked if she had divulged the facts
of an attack which she swore he committed a week before, while Mrs. Atchison was absent from home. She replied she had not, whereupon, she said,
Atchison started toward her.

The girl fled from the house, she said,
but as she did so fired a revolver over her shoulder and the bullet struck Atchison in the heart.

Miss Copeland said she had been in possession of the revolver only about an hour before the killing. Today she declared she carried the weapon to the Atchison home in her belt.

The prosecution closed its case before
Miss Copeland took the stand.
Sam Ireland testified today that a few weeks prior to the killing Turk said:
"The Atchisons are going to keep on fooling with me until something happens."

The prosecution introduced the white coat which Miss Copeland wore on the night of the murder. In a recent confession Miss Copeland stated that he revolver with which she killed Atchison
was carried in the pocket of this coat
when she drove with Turk to Atchison's home. There are no pockets in the coat.
The prosecution asserts Turk fired the shot and that his sweetheart is trying to save him.

JUDGE WHO WARNED HIM
SENDS YOUTH TO PRISON
Collinsville Young Man Gets 1 to 14 Years in Chester on Charge of Forgery.

Willard R. Thompson, 22 years old, a son of Mrs. John Thompson of Collinsville, entered a plea of guilty Monday
to a charge of forgery in the Edwardsville Circuit Court, and was sentenced by Judge Hadley to an indeterminate term of from one to 14 years in the Chester penitentiary.

It was charged that six months ago
Thompson forged a check for $13 and it was cashed by A. Condit, proprietor of a Collinsville candy store. Six weeks ago his mother made an application to the County Court of Madison County to have him declared insane, but he was found to be sane by a committee of physicians.

In passing sentence on the youth
Judge Hadley recalled that once before he had appeared before Judge Hadley on a minor charge while he was sitting in the Belleville Circuit Court. At that time, the Judge told him, "I told you that if you did not mend your wicked ways you would ultimately go to the penitentiary. The Judge said he regretted that he now was compelled to make good that prediction and fix the sentence
himself."

MAYOR KIEL TO SIGN
ZOO BILL TUESDAY
Will Hear Park Commissioner
First, but Says Strong Opposition Argument Will Be Needed

Mayor Kiel announced Monday he would sign on Tuesday the zoo bill which creates a board of seven to conduct zoo affairs and sets aside about 70 acres in Forest Park for the building and operation of a zoo.

Park Commissioner Davis, who opposes the bill, immediately sought a conference and was told Mayor Kiel would hear him Tuesday. George Dieb-mann, president of the Zoological
Society, also will be present.

Davis contends the zoo bill is illegal because it gives control of a portion of Forest Park to a board of seven, of which the Park Commissioner is a member.

"The Park Commissioner must have a better contention than that to stop
me from signing the bill," Mayor Kiel declared. "The same contention might be applied to the Art Museum and the Public Recreation Commission's playgrounds. I shall not ask the legal department for advice before I sign the bill."

Zoo boosters hope $100,000 will be appropriated by the city next April for the construction of new zoo buildings.

TAXIS FAIL TO BRING ENOUGH TO REINSTATE RABBI

Dr. Lipkind's Resignation Accepted by Congregation, 139 to 1.

Taxis, chartered by Rabbi Goodman Lipkind to carry his supporters to the United Hebrew Temple, King's highway and Von Versen avenue, Sunday morning, failed to rally the expected
vote in his favor, and the minister's resignation, which he desired to reconsider,
was accepted by a vote of 139 to 1.

Members of the congregation said Monday that the rabbi wrote to several women members, soliciting their support in the business meeting of the congregation, and notified each of them
that a taxiab would call at a certain time. How many enjoyed a free ride to the temple, could not be learned. A typewritten letter, said to have been received by one of the women from the minister, read:

My dear Mrs. —: The meeting
on the question of reinstatement will take place next Sunday morning at 9:30 at the Temple.

This is the age when woman's vote is the most decisive, and it is very urgent that you should be present
personally at this meeting and record
your vote.

In appreciation of your courtesy,
I will see that a taxi calls for you between 9 and 9:30, and you will be escorted by several other lady members. Believe me, yours sincerely,
RABBI G. LIPKIND.

Rabbi Lipkind refused to talk about the taxicab feature of the affair. He said the vote of the congregation settled the matter. He had believed the congregation might reverse the action of the Board of Trustees, which surprised him by its ready acceptance of his resignation. The resignation was intended by him merely as a forcible request for an increase in salary.

WIFE SAVES MAN'S LIFE
Chops Down Door to Room in Which He Sought Death by Gas

Mrs. Edward Kennedy of 2708 Lamp avenue traced an odor of gas to the room occupied by her husband Sunday morning and found the door to his room barred. She chopped the door open with a hatchet and saw her husband unconscious on the bed. He had barred the door with a chair and a gas jet was open.

At the city hospital Kennedy told physicians he had been drinking heavily and was dependent when he retired
Sunday night. He will recover.

HOT PACKS HELP CURE A MERCURY POISON PATIENT

By Leased Wire From the New York
Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Cured of liquor of mercury poisoning, Mrs.
Ada Weisberger, 33 years old, was removed yesterday from Bushwick
Hospital to her home in Brooklyn.

She swallowed 15 grains of the poison, mistaking it for cough medicine,
on the morning of Nov. 9.

The treatment which physicians throughout the country have been watching, and which they hope will result in the saving of many more lives, consisted mainly in wrapping
the patient in hot packs. Blankets heated to a high temperature, by steam constantly enveloped her and were changed every 10 or 15 minutes.

The patient was kept on a diet of milk, eggs, flour and sweet oil and the room in which she rested was opened to all weather.

"The hot packs," said Dr. Arthur Kalsenbagen, "were designed to relieve the kidneys of the work of throwing off the bodily waste."

By Marguerite Moores Marshall.

W HAT can women really do in politics? No woman can answer that question. She can only say what she would like to do, or what she hopes she may do, or—if she is a firmly optimistic person—what she intends some day to get done. Listening to the prophetic souls among the local suffragists (and, one gathers that voting women will promptly bring on a political millennium political scheme). To my skeptical soul a vagueness of detail inconveniently before all the fervent foretellings, and I've always preferred that bland defiance, "Women have a right to the vote, and it's none of your business how they'll use it!"

But Senator Helen Ring Robinson of Colorado is in a position to give something more definite than a prophecy of woman's place in politics. A year ago this month Senator Robinson was chosen to represent (for four years) the city and county of Denver in the highest legislative body of her State. She holds the most important elective office occupied by any woman in the United States at the present time. What has she done with it? What can a woman do with such an office? I asked her and this is what she told me:

"I believe that I have convinced my colleagues that I am an authority on housekeeping. I was a housekeeper long before I was a Senator, and when it is a question of State housekeeping I think I may say that my opinion influences more votes than my own. Then I have been able to work for humanitary measures and not merely those limited to helping women and children. Finally, in this first year, I have had the privilege of learning my job."

It isn't the millennium, but isn't it a name, clean-cut record of achievement for the first year of a first term? Are you wondering, by the way, what one of the few women politicians in captivity looks like? In one sentence she's the sort of person you'd be glad to have for a mother or aunt. A matter of fact, she is happily married with a 15-year-old daughter. There is absolutely no touch of mannish affectation about her. She has a cozy contralto voice, a pair of smiling blue-gray eyes that look directly at her questioner, a generously wide mouth. She stands a bit above medium height. When I talked with her she wore a tailored skirt and a dark green silk waist with a thin net yoke. Her clothes are well made and becoming.

By Helen Ring Robinson.

It! He had never seen me leave before adjournment. That's one of the compliments of which I'm proudest. "They couldn't have been more considerate. The only time anything ever happened to me was once in a committee room when one of the Senators brushed by me a bit rudely. An older Senator walked up to him and said: 'If you ever treat the lady Senator like that again the janitor will be making a floor mop of what's left of you.' Evidently suffrage hasn't killed Colorado chivalry."

"Of course, you think more women should hold office?" I asked the Senator in conclusion. "The State needs them," she replied warmly. "They have high ideals and special talents. They are honest and they keep at things until things are done. No woman with small children should enter political life, but there's plenty of time and opportunity for her after the babies are grown up. As for the argument that women are too emotional, too much swayed by personalities—do you know what I think?" Senator Robinson paused, dramatically. "I think men are too emotional for politics!"

Following an old custom, most of the monuments in a cemetery in a Maine town bear on one side photographs, suitably protected against the weather, of the persons buried beneath them.

"Cheese that, youse!" a guy says. "It's your turn now! G'wan on an' make a hit or youse know what'll happen!" Well, up to that time I hadn't been a bit nervous, but when the guy gives Izzy a shove agen me an' the two of us work out on the stage it was all off. "Leamm out this!" I says, tryin' to get back past Izzy, but he shoves me on. "G'wan wid the spile," he says. "Hear 'em!" Well, I dunno how I done it, but I says

depend on my support for certain measures, and I believe that my opinion counted the more because I didn't try to talk about what I didn't understand. "I didn't talk very much anyway," was the woman Senator's astounding admission. I could almost see a Sacred tradition falling down in an apoplectic fit, but Mrs. Robinson went calmly on.

"When the friends of a bill providing greater safety for the men workers in the coal mines wished to push their measures through the upper house they came to me with the argument that women and children would suffer less if the number of men killed in the mines could be reduced. I said, 'You don't need to tell me that. If the men alone were made safer and happier by this measure I'd work for it just as hard.'"

It seems to me that women in politics must realize that if men citizens are miserable women will be wretched, and vice versa. We have to think of what benefit humanity as a whole. The only woman's measure, in the strictest sense, which I had the chance to work for, last year, was a resolution to appoint a commission to consider the minimum wage for women workers.

"A bill which I am credited with having helped to pass provided that in each rural district of Colorado a school should be kept open at least six months in the year, and a teacher be paid at least $50 a month. You must see that that was a matter of value to men, women and children, without distinction." "I infer that you are a woman politician unaffected by sex antagonism," I remarked.

By Helen Ring Robinson.

"I never knew the meaning of sex antagonism until I came East," Senator Robinson protested. "Western men hold a much higher opinion of their women than Eastern men do of theirs. It is no defense for the Eastern man sompeth an' Izzy comes out. If he says anything to me I never heard it for the howlin' and yellin'." An' the guy in the wings was howlin' "Do sompeth! Do sompeth!" "L-leave us dance," Izzy says, an' we tried to. But somebody must of tied ropes 'round our feet, an' the way we tangled up was awful. Oh, I knowed we was doin' rotten, all right, but we didn't dare sneak, wid that guy standin' us off wid a long look, an' then all of a sudden it come easier, an' we'd hit a couple o' steps togedder, when just then

"Get the hook!" somebody howls. "Get the hook!" "I'd been too busy wid me feet up to that far to notice anybody in the audience, but I knowed that voice all right, an' I looks down where it come from, in the box over my side o' the stage. An' it's the Boss wid the misseus an' Ethel and the Missee's old man!"

"Enough! The guy reaches out wid that hook an' grabs me 'round the neck an' I falled! 'G'wan!" he says. "G'wan! putcher clo'es on an' beat it!" "Where's our wal'ry?" Izzy says. "Sal'ry!" the guy says. "Yer lucky you ain't fined $5 dollars apiece!" Then he shoves us into a room an' I'm just ready fer to beat it when the door opens an' it's the Boss.

"Well," he says, "it's all over!" "We'd of bin all right, all right, Mr. Hadley," Izzy begins, "an'—"

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT BY MRS. FAWCER

THE ANIMALS AND THEIR MASTER.
A POOR old horse was eating by the roadside. "Oh! dear," he said, "I do not have enough to eat, and now I cannot find a cool spring where I can drink." "Come over here," said a voice. The horse lifted his head and saw sitting on a bush a fairy. "Here is a clear, cool spring of water," she told him. "Drink all you like."
When the horse finished drinking she asked, "Where is your master? He should provide food and drink for you." "Alas," answered the horse, "he does not provide for any of his animals. He goes to the tavern and sits all day with others like himself, and when night comes he either sleeps by the roadside or comes home and goes to bed without thinking about the poor pigs run along the road, grunting at every step. When he reached home he started to go in the barn."
"Now we will drive him home," she said, poking the pig with a stick. "Here he is," said the fairy; "now watch." And she touched the sleeping man with her wand and changed him into a fat pig.

"No," said the fairy, "you must sleep out of doors, as you make the other animals do." "But I am hungry," said the pig.

THE marriage Thursday afternoon of Miss Margaret Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Lee of Vandeventer place, and Taylor Carter of Cincinnati, O., will be held at the Shetler, the old Turner country place, in Normandy.

The ceremony will be at 5 o'clock and will be performed by the Rev. Francis O'Boyle, S. J.

Miss Eleanor Tracy of Coburg, Canada, will be maid of honor, and Miss Julie Lee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Turner Lee of Columbia, Mo., and a niece of the bride, will be flower girl.

Mr. Carter's best man will be Erskine Miller of Staunton, Va., who was his classmate at Virginia Military Institute. It will be one of the most important nuptial events of the year, as Miss Lee is related to several prominent St. Louis families and belongs to one of the most fashionable little sets in society.

Her mother was formerly Miss Julie Turner, a daughter of the late Maj. Henry S. Turner, whose wife was Julia Hunt. Mr. Lee is a member of the Lee family of Virginia and came here many years ago.

After their marriage Mr. Carter and his bride will go to Cincinnati to live. Monday evening the Olympic Theater will again be the scene of the annual College Club benefit, the proceeds of which are used for the scholarship fund to send girls to college.

It is always a gala night when the house is strung from "end to end" with pennants of many colleges and between the acts college songs burst forth in the most unexpected places. College yells, college colors and a college spirit fill the air and everybody was young and enthusiastic. From pit to gallery blocks of seats are taken by the different colleges and it is a fashionable as well as a worthy occasion.

The play will be the "Governor's Lady."

A Christmas bazaar will be held at the home of Mrs. Henry Elliot, 11 Kingsbury place, Tuesday afternoon from 2 until 5 o'clock, for the benefit of Miss Helen Greer's house, at 1230 Blair avenue. Books, candy, dolls, aprons, fancy bags and gifts of all descriptions will be on sale.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Hasset of 400 Lindell boulevard have sent out cards for a literary musicale, which they will give Tuesday evening at the Woman's Club in honor of Dr. and Mrs. E. George Hall, who have come recently to St. Louis to live. Mrs. Hasset will give the program and one of the numbers will be a reading to music. Dr. Hall holds the chair of sociology and physiology at Teacher's College.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Dwight Dana of 4433 Laclede avenue will be hosts next Saturday evening at the Country Club weekly dinner dance in honor of Miss Jane McNair, one of the debutantes of the season.

Mrs. Henry Clark of 2531 Washington avenue has recalled the invitations for her dance Thursday, Dec. 11, in honor of Miss Carol Miller, on account of the death of Miss Miller's grandmother.

Dr. and Mrs. Otto Fisher Hall of 5217 Cahanne avenue are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a son Thanksgiving day.

Miss Mary W. Hagar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Hagar of 529 Cates avenue, departed last evening for a short visit to Virginia, to attend the Washington-Lee University dance.

Mrs. Lucille Schless Bainter of San Francisco has been in Memphis for the past few days.

HEARS BROTHER IMPLICATE HIM, CONFESSES THEFT

The third time William Cochran, 32 years old, of 409 South Fourteenth street, was taken to Central District Police Station and accused of stealing several tons of tin valued at $200 from the National Lead Co's storeroom at 1001

Chouteau avenue, he confessed to the theft and implicated his brother, Temperance, 21, of 515 Walnut street.

When Temperance Cochran was taken to the station Sunday he was indignant and vehemently declared his brother would not call him a thief. Temperance was allowed to hide under Capt. O'Brien's desk and William was brought in. William barely had started the recital of how the robbery was accomplished when Temperance crawled from under the desk and said:

"That's enough, don't make him tell any more about me." Temperance then told how the loot was stolen. He said he had worked for the National Lead Co. 10 years and lost his position a week ago Saturday. His brother was also out of work on that Saturday. He said he hid under a platform before the warehouse was closed so that he would be inside on Sunday when only one watchman would be on duty. He kept awake by bumping his head against the platform and pinching himself.

At 7:30 Sunday morning, he said, he carried out 20 pigs of tin, each weighing 100 pounds, loaded them in an express wagon his brother William had in the alley and they drove away. At Fourteenth and Chouteau, he said, the wagon broke down and another was hired.

While William watched the broken outfit until the owner arrived Temperance said he drove to the rear of a varant lot at 500 Marine avenue and remained there watching for a two-day and night. Then, he said, he and his brother drove to the rear of the lot and hid the tin buried there.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"For fifteen years I suffered untold agony, and for one period of nearly two years I had hemorrhages and the doctors told me I would have to undergo an operation, but I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am in good health. I cannot praise your Vegetable Compound too highly. Every man should take it. I recommend it both old and young for female ailments." —MRS. EMILY SUMMITT, Swarthmore, Pa.

"My troubles began when I lost a child, and I was for four months in bed. I said an operation was all I dreaded it and I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound. The medicine made me a well woman and I can now do my own work." —J. H. PICKING, 1260 Sargent Baltimore, Md.

"We guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine. It is fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound were to help the women help any other woman who is in a like manner."
